

Easy English

Criminal justice system review consultation

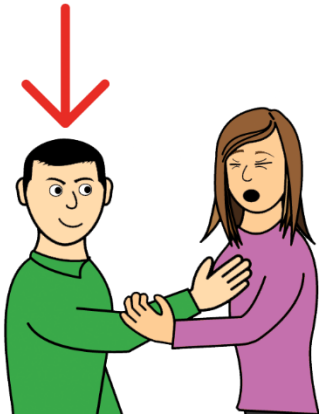

Victim survivors. We want to hear from you

The words we, us and our mean the Office of the Commissioner for Victims of Crime.

We are part of the government in Western Australia.

We want to make things better

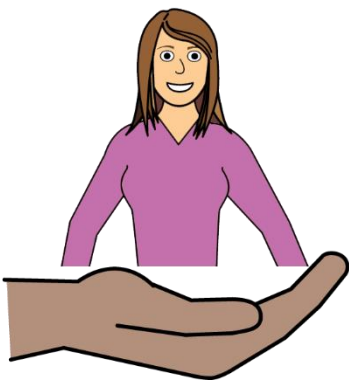

When a person commits a sex crime

- we say they are a sexual offender.

When you are the person hurt by the sex crime

- we say you are a victim survivor.

We want victim survivors to get the support they need.

We will find out what they need.

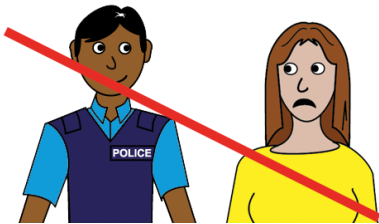

We want to hear from you

We want to hear about what happens in the criminal justice system.

Like

- when you report a sex crime to police

or

- why you may choose not to report it

or

- what happens when the offender gets out.

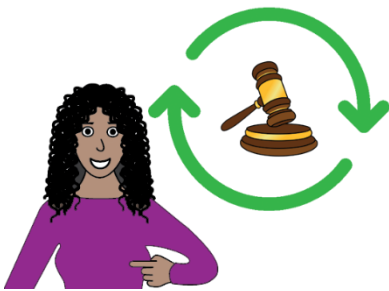

You can tell us what you think

We want to know how we can be better.

We say we do a review of the system.

We want to learn from you.

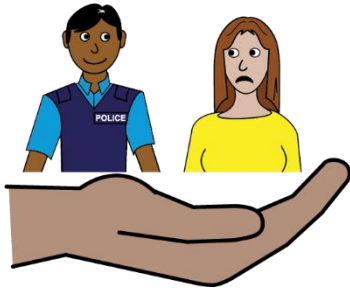

You can share your experience with us.

We say you make a submission

or

take part in our consultation process.

You can tell us things like

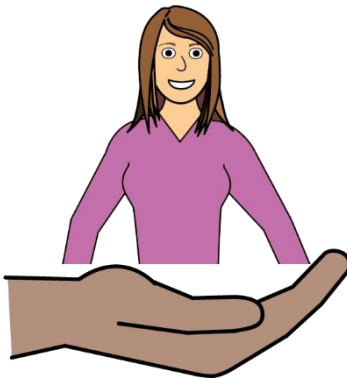

- how to make it easier to report a sex crime

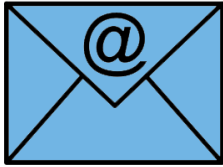

- what police can do better

- how to make going to court less scary

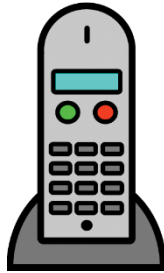

- what kind of support will help you.

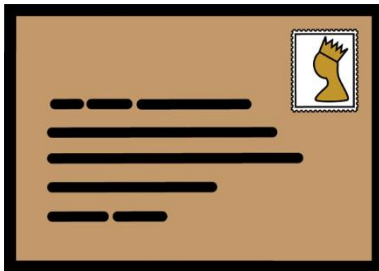

You can email us.

experiences@justice.wa.gov.au

You can phone us.

08 9264 9877

You can post a letter to us.

Criminal justice system review consultation

Office of the Commissioner for Victims of Crime

GPO Box F317

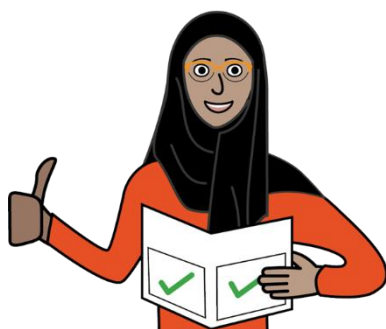

Perth WA 6000

We must get your submission before

Sunday 8 October 2023.

About this book

This book helps you understand our fact sheet

Improving experiences for victim-survivors:

Review of criminal justice system responses to sexual offending.

VisAbility

The Accessible Information Service at

VisAbility wrote the Easy English.

We use pictures from

- Easy on the i
- Mulberry Symbols
- The Noun Project
- Picto-Selector

and

- Government of Western Australia.