Dirty Clean Food

Products
Beef and Lamb

Dirty Clean Food is the world's first regenerative food brand, becoming the conduit between regenerative farmers and conscious consumers. We partner with farmers to produce the best tasting and most environmentally friendly Grassfed Beef and Lamb.

Green Range Lamb and Blackwood Valley Beef are sourced in the South West and Great Southern region of Western Australia, and are under the framework of Dirty Clean Food.

Green Range Lamb specializes in producing Ultrawhite lambs. A meat sheep breed to produce the highest quality meat with the best intramuscular fat without the 'lanolin' flavour of wool sheep. Green Range lamb combines the crisp salty air from the Indian and Southern Oceans with green rolling hills filled with lush, highly nutritious regenerative pastures. The pasture is supplemented with a specially formulated ration of legumes for best pasture management, year-round supply, and consistent premium quality.

To produce our premium Grassfed Angus Blackwood Valley Beef, our farmers focus on best pasture management providing nutrient dense feed for their cattle. This feed is cut for silage (a fermented hay product) in October, and fed to the cattle throughout summer, to ensure consistent quality grassfed beef year-round. Practicing holistic planned grazing means that cattle are moved often onto fresh pasture, with the long recovery time regenerating soil processes, sequestering carbon, and optimizing pasture and cattle growth.
