

MOTOR VEHICLE DEALER'S LICENCE REQUEST TO ADD CATEGORY E

What is consignment selling?

Selling vehicles on consignment means selling a vehicle (including by auction) for a person who is not a dealer or trade owner. In order to lawfully sell vehicles on consignment, a dealer must have Category E endorsed on their certificate of authorised premises (CAP).

This form must be completed in order for Category E to be added to an existing licence. If the existing licence has been issued subject to a condition prohibiting consignment selling, this condition will be removed.

Please note: before removing the condition, the Commissioner for Consumer Protection (the Commissioner) must be satisfied that the licensee has sufficient financial resources. To assist the Commissioner in making that decision, a current assessment must be undertaken of the dealership's continued financial viability. To enable this assessment, please complete this entire form. You must ensure that the Authorisation and Declaration on page 2 is signed by all directors, partners (or directors of any corporate partners), or the sole trader.
