Jarrah honey, Blackbutt honey, bee pollen

Menzie's Honey is our company trademark. Menzie's Honey's apiaries are located in the pristine forest of Western Australia, where the popular healing honey comes from. We currently export to the United Arab Emirates, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Qatar and China, and we have obtained establishment listing to enable export to Saudi Arabia and China.

Marshall's Western Australian Honey

Products
Jarrah honey

Marshall's Western Australian Honey is a family owned and operated apiary and honey wholesaler. From humble beginnings we have grown into an apiary of 70 hives, focusing on harvesting of mono-floral and active Western Australian honeys. Operating an apiary of this size allows us to undertake all aspects of beekeeping and sales.

This is a 100% owned and operated beekeeping business and applies the principle of "paddock to plate" in every aspect. We run a manageable number of hives which allows us to harvest the best quality honey; small batches that are unique to specific areas. Our passion is targeting Western Australia's signature honey – Jarrah. Our goal is to make this premium honey accessible to consumers, allowing them to discover the superb taste and health benefits of this world class honey for themselves.

Exploring new country, locating flora, securing sites with landholders, preparing the bees, and executing the move in Western Australian bush has no guarantees. There is an element of chance with every honey harvest – each spoonful has a big story behind it.
