Frequently Asked Questions

Exmouth Gulf

Why was the Exmouth Gulf Taskforce (Taskforce) established?

The Taskforce was established in July 2022 under the Environmental Protection Act 1986 as the coordinating body to assist the State Government's consideration of strategic issues relating to Exmouth Gulf. This was part of Government's response to the Environmental Protection Authority's (EPA) advice to the Minister for the Environment.

How does the Taskforce relate to the Environmental Protection Authority's strategic advice on cumulative impacts on values of Exmouth Gulf?

The Taskforce is building on the EPA advice, investigating knowledge gaps, and providing advice to the Minister for the Environment regarding options for further protecting Exmouth Gulf and surrounds.

Will the Taskforce be commenting on development proposals?

No, the Taskforce will not replace or replicate existing environmental or planning assessment processes for considering development proposals. Taskforce members may provide direct comment on development proposals through their own organisations but this is beyond the Terms of Reference for the Taskforce.

How was membership of the Taskforce decided?

The Taskforce may engage with community and stakeholders through the development of its advice and recommendations to the Minister through forums where appropriate. The Taskforce has community representatives included in its membership as a further avenue for input. The Taskforce acknowledges that the EPA consulted extensively to inform their strategic advice on Exmouth Gulf. The Taskforce will consider this during its deliberations.

What are the next steps for the Taskforce and when is the final advice expected to be delivered to State Government?
